'Slave Day' At Yoe High Brings Laughs

SUPER TOAD David Hollas (attired in appropriate green complete with fins) and slave girls Marilyn Hawk, Cathy Collins and Shirley Horelica find a moment to rest amidst the madness of the traditional 'Slave Day.'

YOE HIGH math teacher Fred Johns 'shepherds' the blushing bride (Joe Trdy), Superman (Charles Jones), Super Toad (David Hornung) and 'Frenchie' (Jackie Chubb) for a song on an impromptu stage in the high school hallway.

DANCING IN THE HALL - Mrs. Herbert Nance dances a jig at the command of her 'slave owner' during the morning frivolity Tuesday at Yoe High which raised a record $445.65 for the senior class.

FEMME FATALES Mark Monroe and Gary Thweatt lead a pre-Easter parade to the applause of underclassmen at Yoe High who paid high stakes for the privilege of making sport of seniors. More pictures, story on Page 6

With F.M.L.

Leslie cracked a bone in her left leg above the ankle last week in an eighth grade track meet and is hoisting a cast around for the trouble. Martin had one of those virus 104-degree temperatures Sunday night.

Friends in Belton early in the week were having typical technical problems in the offset conversion and installation of new equipment at The Belton Journal.

I've come up with a case of the blahs after finishing most of the Herald's modernization during the income tax season and am seeking some advice from daily circulation friends in West Texas. No, we're not likely to go daily here.

Beside this run of gray experience, my usual anticipation for another project is ahead of what is capable of happening.

And for a column which is supposed to rouse or amuse or somehow influence others who might read it, it is typical of many people, I imagine, with a story or medium to poor luck, nothing serious mind you, in a rainy April.

114-114-114

The use of the editorial "we" is almost a euphemism and everybody who writes editorials employs this pronoun.

It is overused. But in conversation, it comes to altogether different meaning. "We" is people, not just sources of opinion. And when I am specifically included in that collective, it's more important than any editorial "we" coined for cohesion.

114-114-114

I am glad Ed Laywell won the McCullin Award. He is an amiable, quiet guy who has done a lot for area agriculture, particularly livestock, the community and youth. More than most people knew. But that is the point of a civic award, to find out who is really doing things. And when it is for youngsters, I think that's not only important, but great.

I wonder, sometime, how a person is mature and honorable without being a stuffed shirt. Part of being the complex simpleton I am at times is wondering how thin one can slice himself before the pieces are too frail to deal adequately with problems and people.

'Human engineering' is a term Dale Carnegie and social scientists before and since coined in that vague but critical area of dealing with people. I am a poor people engineer at times because of an inclination to worry about the guy at the throttle as well as the train.

"That is quite normal," it says here somewhere, but, by golly, sometimes it's more fun to agonize over one's own problems than others. I won't concede that self questioning is self doubt.

There is less time for self-agonizing if you try to be a problem solver. And if you deal with a few, it is easy to put one's problems and one's self down.

It may be this day only a problem of style that concerns. Maybe that's why the moustache and the tennis renewal.

114-114-114

This column has delved into the the "basics" over the years and one of these is religion, as touchy a subject as anyone can inquire about. I want to quote one story from the urban renewal tabloid in your Herald of April 16, and ask if what you read is not a modern affirmation of the best in religion and aspiration:

QUOTE: In working together on various committees, dedicated to the new birth of Cameron, we have been astounded by the change in the attitude of our people.

"Some of the citizens who were convinced it couldn't happen here are, now, our program's biggest boosters. We have seen a change from 'can't it' to 'can it' and we believe and feel that Cameron can continue to do whatever we want to do to make our city what we would have it to be."

"Cameron is not dead, but is experiencing a new birth for a brighter tomorrow. END OF QUOTE.

These are probably A. W. McCullin's words.

Please remember: it is not only the heart that is difficult to change, but also the head.

You see, both have to be in the "right place."

CTCOG Recieves $45,000 Grant

A comprehensive planning assistance grant from the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) in the amount of $45,000 to Central Texas Council of Governments was announced by Cong. W. R. Poage.

CTCOG includes the counties of Bell, Coryell, Hamilton, Lampasas, Milam, Mills and San Saba. The grant is to assist the CTCOG and continuance of area wide comprehensive planning regarding areas as land use, housing, transportation, and regional goals and objectives.

Good Friday Service Planned For City

A united Good Friday worship service will be held in Cameron Friday, April 20 at 1 p.m. at Abiding Savior Lutheran Church, 12th and Jackson.

Rev. John M. Homerstad will be main speaker for the service sponsored by the Cameron Ministers Association.

Participants in the service will include Rev. Alvis Coleman, welcome and invocation; Rev. Roy Lee Scott, prayer; Father Benisch, scripture reading; Mrs. Bill Kelm, organist; Jack Terhune, special music; Rev. Ernest Helsley, benediction.

Pastor Homerstad will speak on the theme, "Come to the Cross." He holds a BTH degree from Luther Seminary in St. Paul, Minn. and has served as a missionary to Japan for 17 years. Before coming to Cameron last April he served the Lutheran Church in Llano for four years.

BUCKHOLTS SERVICE

A special worship service will be held at the Evangelical Brethren Church of Buckholts on Friday at 7:30 p.m. Holy communion will be observed during the service. A message will be preached by the pastor and the youth choir will sing special music.

NEWS BRIEFS

Funnel Cloud Sighted

The Waco weather bureau reported two funnel clouds between Cameron and Calvert Tuesday evening about 6:45. A Cameron police unit reported seeing one funnel cloud from a point northeast of the city.

Firemen Answer Call

Firemen were called to a fire at the Roy Wohleb home near Oak Hill Cemetery Saturday night about 9. The large frame house was gutted by the flames and firemen were called back about 2 a.m. Sunday to put more water on the fire.

Dog Not Rabid

Police Chief Felipe Martinez reports that the dog he shot on the school grounds Thursday was not rabid. The dog's head was sent to Austin for testing and no rabies was found, the chief said.

Red Cross Meeting

A meeting will be held Monday night, April 30 at 7:30 p.m. in the community room of the Rockdale State Bank for all people interested in the American Red Cross. The purpose is to re-organize the board and develop some new ideas for the Milam County Chapter.

An Easter party for boys and girls will be held at the church on April 21 from 2 until 4 p.m. Visitors are welcome.

There will be no worship service at 9 a.m. on Easter Sunday, April 22. Instead there will be a sunrise worship service at 6 a.m. This will be followed by a breakfast at the church immediately following the service. Sunday School will be held at 8:15 a.m.

Rev. Frank A. Simeik, pastor of the church, invites everyone to attend any or all of the services.

Council Grants Three Permits, Denies Two

The city council granted three special use permits and denied two at a regular meeting Tuesday evening. A number of residents appeared in favor or protesting against the permits.

Permits were granted to Coleman Duncum for a mobile home park on West 24th Street, to a resident of North Emancipation for putting a mobile home on a lot, and for a new home to be built to include a beauty shop on North Austin.

Denied were permits for the Gordon Baskin mobile home park on East 17th Street and to Whited's garage and used cars at 301 N. Houston.

Several residents appeared protesting both of these requests. Residents of the 17th St. area also presented a petition signed by property owners objecting to installation of the mobile home park. Residents of the N. Houston area also appeared in protest of the garage and used car lot.

In routine business council members were sworn in by city attorney Ed Magre, bids were opened for tax forms and pipe for waterline in the urban renewal area, and the mayor commended the police for the job they did in the attempted robbery of Keith's Minimex.

City Cleanup Drive Due

Cameron will again stage a "giant clean-up" this year similar to the successful drive last year, when the local Texas Highway Department trucks added to the local ones hauled off tons of trash.

No date has been set for the clean-up drive, but it has been suggested that residents start now organizing a block-by-block committee to assist their neighbors in the clean-up task.

E. A. Bigbee, city code inspector, reminds residents that the city has codes providing that owners are required to keep their premises free and clear of all hazards to health, fire and unsightly accumulations of rubbish and trash, such as:

-- Open storage of any abandoned motor vehicle, junk tires and building rubbish, refrigerators, air - conditioners, stoves, furniture, scrap metal, concrete, glass, waste paper and all other similar waste materials or other objects;

-- Inoperable construction equipment and farm tractors and equipment, livestock (hogs, cattle, horses), garbage or other organic waste which might provide food for rodents.

The burning of trash, leaves and grass is prohibited. Bigbee noted. He also said the codes provide that all premises, vacant or improved are to be kept free of weeds and high grass which are breeding grounds of mosquitoes, by proper periodic mowing, either by owner or occupant.

Codes also provide that uninhabitable and dangerous buildings (commercial or residential) shall be repaired to meet minimum housing standards or they shall be demolished and lots cleared.

"These regulations were adopted as a means of protecting the health of all residents," Bigbee said, "reducing the danger of fires and making Cameron a more attractive place in which to live."

Residents who do not comply with the ordinances will be in line for a citation directing them to an appearance at city court for a trial to determine whether or not they are in violation of the code.

If found guilty, the resident is subject to a fine of not less than $10 and not more than $100. Every day that exceeds a ten day grace period shall constitute a separate offense, Bigbee said.

Armed Robbery Attempt Fails Here Saturday

Felony charges are pending against Norris E. Moss, 24, of Houston, according to County Atty. Charles Smith, following an armed robbery attempt of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Keith Saturday night.

Keith told police he shot the man when he tried to rob Mrs. Keith of money she had in a bank money bag.

According to Keith, he and his wife walked to their pickup after closing Keith's Minimex Saturday night. Moss grabbed Mrs. Keith and held a pistol to her head and demanded the money. She screamed and Keith, who was putting his pistol on the pickup seat, started around the truck and met Moss who fired at him but missed. Keith shot Moss in the upper shoulder and the bullet penetrated Moss's lung.

Police said Moss jumped into his car and attempted to escape, after dropping his pistol on the parking lot. His car went out of control a few blocks away, jumped the curb and the driver was apprehended by Police Sgt. Kent Butler.

Moss was taken to St. Edward Hospital in Cameron and transferred to Scott and White early Sunday.

Patrol Reports

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated 23 accidents on rural highways in Milam County during the month of March, according to Sergeant Fred Hurst, Highway Patrol Supervisor of this area.

These 23 accidents have resulted in no deaths, and 10 injuries for the month of March, 1973.

These figures result in a total of 46 accidents with no deaths and 22 injured in Milam County during 1973.

Viral Infection Affects Schools

Absenteeism was high at Cameron's Ada Henderson and Junior High schools this week due to a viral infection. Dr. C. G. Swift, Milam County Health Director, said the illness was characterized by a high fever and was lasting 4 or 5 days.

Ada Henderson School reported 71 absent on Monday and 60 on Tuesday. Cameron Junior High had 74 absent on Monday and 68 Tuesday. It appeared the illness had not reached Yoe High students or Ben Milam school where absenteeism was about normal.

Dr. Swift said patients were advised to stay away from school until they were completely free of fever.

What Others Say And Think...

Shield Law: Safeguard Or Trap?

(Excerpts from John S. Knight's Notebook)

Can a reporter be compelled by government to reveal the identity of confidential sources of information or the content of unpublished information?

Most newspaper editors and the television networks say "No," since Article I of the Bill of Rights specifically states: "Congress shall make no law... abridging the freedom... of speech, or of the press..."

Yet the Supreme Court decided last June by 5-4 vote in the Caldwell case that the sources of a reporter's information are not and cannot be held confidential.

Members of the Fourth Estate, well aware of the Nixon administration's hostility toward the press, are pressing Congress to enact shield law which will protect the reporter's position of confidentiality.

SEN. SAM ERVIN, an authority on constitutional law who has been attempting to draft legislation to protect the free flow of information, finds it a bothersome assignment indeed.

On the one hand, Ervin declaims, "there is society's interest in being informed--in learning of crime, corruption or mismanagement. On the other, we have the pursuit of truth in the courtroom. It is the duty of every man to give testimony. The Sixth Amendment specifically gives a criminal defendant the right to confront the witness against him, and to have compulsory process for obtaining witness in his favor."

For one, I confess to some ambivalence on this question. Can Sen. Ervin draft a law which, as he says, "will accommodate both the interest of society in law enforcement, and the interest of society in preserving a free flow of information to the public?"

Or, will the enactment of any law -- qualified or unqualified -- invite Congress to tamper with the law as it serves its pleasure in the future? Vermont Royster of the Wall Street Journal sees "boobytraps" in this procedure, since "for what one Congress can give, another can take away, and once it is conceded that Congress can legislate about the press, no man can know where it might end."

So the key question remains: Will the press and the public interest best be served by a congressional shield law holding confidentiality to be inviolate -- a law which as Royster points out could be changed and diluted by a future Congress?

Or had we better stick with the First Amendment, under which a free press has survived for nearly 200 years without any law to make newsmen a class apart? Why not stand with the courageous history of the press, and continue to wage battle against all attempts at censorship by the courts and intimidation by a hostile administration?

The more I study this question, the more I am persuaded that, since the First Amendment has nurtured the freest press of any nation, reporters, editors and publishers should not petition Congress but rather continue to contest all erosions of press or public freedom and be prepared to defend their convictions at any cost.

When Congress is involved, there lies the risk -- as Royster has said -- that it might start legislating about the freedom of the press even in the guise of protecting it.

I readily concede that what I have written above represents a modification of what I had previously believed, and that it is open to challenge from my journalistic colleagues who hold a contrary view.

Before the press tentatively pursue too enthusiastically the case for a shield law, they would be well advised to ask themselves whether the remedy they propose will ultimately sustain or destroy press freedom.

Senate Committee Says Emission Standards Due

A Senate Interim Committee Monday recommended the establishment of motor vehicle emission standards by the Department of Public Safety and the inclusion of emission testing and correction as part of the State's motor vehicle safety inspection program.

The two-pronged recommendation was among more than a dozen made by the Senate Interim Committee on Environmental Affairs to the Governor and to the Legislature in a report released Monday.

"If Texas is to attain air quality standards established by the federal government by 1975, we must move ahead vigorously in controlling motor vehicle emissions," said former Senator Murray Watson, Jr. of Mart, chairman of the interim study committee.

"Motor vehicle emissions constitute a major source of certain air pollutants," Watson added, "and we cannot attain national air quality standards for hydrocarbon, carbon monoxide, and nitrogen dioxide without additional control measures. The Committee feels, with the concurrence of the Texas Air Control Board, that the most feasible solution to this problem appears to be a system of periodic inspections of motor vehicle emissions."

The more than 100 pages of testimony before the study committee, conclusions and recommendations covers such topics as water resources, noise pollution, air quality, solid waste, land use, environmental education, environmental control agencies, land restoration, tax incentives, prosecution for pollution, and future committee work.

The Committee recommends the appointment of a joint Senate - House panel to study the environmental impact of withdrawal of ground water. The Committee also recommends the formation of committees to study strip mining in Texas and the creation of a single State environmental control agency, consolidating the powers and responsibilities of existing pollution control agencies. Both study committees are to make recommendations to the 64th Legislature.

The Senate Interim Committee on Environmental Affairs was created by the 62nd Legislature. The Committee began its work early in 1972 and concluded its task on the eve of the convening of the 63rd Legislature last January.

"Low Down" FROM THE Congressional Record

By JOE CRUMP

(A Column for Readers Who Haven't Time to Review the Congressional Record Daily)

EVINS: 'U.S. POSTAL SERVICE A MISTAKE'

REP. JOE L. EVINS (Tenn.) "... The operation of the U.S. Postal Service regrettably has become something of a bad joke -- a return to the Pony Express mail service of the Old West days would be an improvement in many areas of the Nation.

"For example, in Watertown, Tenn., ... 6 days were required for urgently needed medicine mailed from Lebanon, Tenn., to reach Watertown, Tenn., some 15 miles distant.

"The press, congressional hearings, and my mail have provided many such examples. ...

"I have reluctantly concluded that my vote in favor of establishing the Postal Service was a mistake. In my view, Congress should seriously consider reestablishing the Post Office Department as formerly constituted. ...

"Indications are that many of the problems confronting the Postal Service stem from these basic mistakes:

"A reduction in the postal work force of 40,000 employees with a job freeze at a time when the volume of mail is increasing by billions of pieces. ...

"Forcing postal workers to work overtime and long hours on a continuing basis, resulting in lost efficiency and low morale, and increased costs. ...

"Offering bonus incentives to encourage veteran career employees and experienced management personnel to retire, which left great gaps in the management experience and capability of the Postal Service. ...

"If strong action to remedy these deficiencies requires the restructuring of the present Postal Service and reestablishment of the U.S. Post Office Department -- responsive to the public need -- the Congress should act in the Public interest. ...

CRUMP'S GRASS ROOTS COMMENT

Postal Service employees facing the public are being unjustly criticized for service problems beyond their control. Many Postal patrons were shocked when their Home Town canceling stamp was replaced with a Section number; it was the height of poor Public Relations.

OLD PHILOSOPHER

Dear editor:

I don't know how many hundreds of thousands of words have been written and spoken about the celebrated Watergate affair, more than I was able to read and more I suspect than some high-place people in Washington wanted to hear, but through it all nobody has paid any attention to one of the most striking and unsettling things about the illegal bugging.

It's the gross incompetence of the experts.

Here you had a highly trained, educated ex-C.I.A. man with 20 years' experience in the super-secret intelligence gathering agency of the U. S. Government, the outfit that's supposed to know how many guided missiles Russia has, what the Viet Cong had for breakfast yesterday, how much sugar cane Castro harvested last month and other things too secret to mention, and he and his bugging partners, including an ex-F.B.I. man, flubbed the whole thing. Caught by a night watchman.

Why, any burglar who failed to learn the rounds of a night watchman in any small town in America wouldn't even have the respect of his fellow burglars. Be the laughing stock of the underworld.

I'll tell you, we may have gotten used to a certain amount of incompetence in this country, you see several million automobiles recalled to replace defective parts or have a refrigerator or washing machine or T.V. set break down in the fourth month and you grow accustomed to the idea, but to see men who had outstanding records with the C.I.A. and the F.B.I. fall flat on their face trying to eavesdrop on a political headquarters located down the hall... it makes you wonder if anybody in high places in this country knows for sure what's going on in the world. Somebody better recount those Russian missiles and see if Castro is using saccharin in his coffee.

I've always said if you give the experts enough time and money they'll eventually find out what a lot of people have known for years, but I have to take that back. What they'll do is wind up in jail. A thing like that undermines a man's confidence.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

GSPA Asks Butz To Allow Changes

Elbert Harp, executive director of Grain Sorghum Producers Association, appealed to Secretary of Agriculture Earl Butz on behalf of the grain producers who signed up under Plan B of the 1973 Feed Grain Program.

On March 30, Harp sent a telegram to Secretary Butz stating that the producers who signed for Plan B were unjustly misled in having the program changed after they signed up. Harp asked that these farmers be given an opportunity to change to Plan A if they so desire.

GSPA was notified of the change in the 1973 Feed Grain Program by USDA officials on March 26. The change affected Plan A by reducing the previously announced set-aside of 25 percent to only 10 percent, with all payments remaining the same. Plan B restricted producers to their 1972 level of planting with no required diversion. The farmers who chose Plan B were given no opportunity to change to Plan A.

Still Only Six... Sheep and Lamb Feeding Spurts Upward... Down But Still Up... Report Suspected Cases.

With all the furor being raised about how high farm prices are these days, a government report still notes that only six commodities are above parity. Overall parity is now pegged at 82 per cent, which means the agricultural segment of our economy is still 18 per cent below being on an equal par with the rest of the economy.

For the record, those six commodities which are above parity include hogs, beef cattle, calves, sheep, wool, and mohair. Lambs and oats which were above parity in February have now slipped under that ratio.

No crop is reported at or above parity prices. Cotton's average price of 21 cents is almost 40 cents per pound below effective parity. Grain sorghum at $2.77 per hundred pounds is down two cents from February and almost a dollar under parity. Wheat at $2.16 per bushel is $1.05 per bushel under parity. Corn at $1.75 per bushel is 41 cents below parity. Oats, which were above parity in February, now average $1.05 per bushel, a penny per bushel under parity.

Hog prices in Texas as of March 15 averaged $37.20 per hundred pounds; that's $3.30 per hundredweight above parity. Calves at $63.40 per hundredweight are $13.80 above parity. Sheep at $19 per hundred pounds are $7.50 above parity. Lambs at $41.60 per hundred pounds are 30 cents under parity.

RED MEAT production is up and down in Texas. Commercial slaughtering plants in Texas produced 171,400,000 pounds of red meat during February. This is down 12% from the previous month but three per cent above the amount produced in February of 1972.

Nationwide, commercial production of red meat during February was down five per cent from a year earlier.

GROSS income from chickens sold in Texas during 1972 was up $300,000 from 1971.

Cash receipts for chickens sold were $4,700,000, up from the 1971 cash receipts of $4,400,000. The number of chickens raised during 1972, excluding commercial broilers, decreased 11 per cent from the previous year.

SUBMIT suspected screwworm samples to the fly laboratory at Mission. This year is off to a good start in controlling the screwworm for 1973, but continued reporting of suspected samples is imperative if the program is to succeed, authorities at the fly plant at Mission emphasize.

County agents and vocational agriculture teachers have vials in which the samples can be mailed.

Attendant Can Insure Higher Piglet Survival

COLLEGE STATION
One of the best ways to get better piglet survival is to simply be there when the little porkers are born.

Presence of an attendant at farrowing time, says Stanley E. Curtis of the University of Illinois Animal Science Department, is one method of boosting weaned litter size and total production without building more farrowing facilities.

The attendant could help the piglet's adjustment to its new life, with special attention to the first breath, early nursing and proper temperature.

Curtis made his recommendation Monday a. lead-off speaker for the 22nd annual Swine Short Course at Texas A&M University. Sponsors were the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, Texas Agricultural Extension Service and the Texas Pork Producers Association.

He estimated that 20 percent of piglets born alive in the United States are lost because of the rigorous environment encountered after birth.

"It thus seems strange to me that in most pork production operations in this country, not only is there no attendant present during most farrowing, but human eyes are now not even laid on many piglets until they are 6 to 12 hours old.

"No amount of mechanical contrivances or financial wizardry can replace sound farrowing - time husbandry, the cornerstone of which is the presence of a caretaker who can tend to emergencies as they arise," Curtis said.

The speaker cited an experiment involving 75 gilt litters over three farrowing periods. Piglet survival rate was phenomenal: 92.5 percent. A caretaker was present at the birth of each piglet.

FFA Teams Place In Area Contest

On Saturday, April 14, five teams from the Cameron Yoe FFA Chapter participated in the 1973 Area III judging contest at Texas A&M University.

The poultry team consisting of Gary Fuchs, Bill Vogelsang, and Jimmy Vaculin placed first out of 27 teams. The range and pasture team placed second. Team members are Duane Tomek, Larry Jistel and Raymond Tomek.

The land judging team including Richard Dodd, Lee Dodd and David Tucker placed fifth. On the dairy team which placed 12 team members were Gary Jistel, Kenneth Dusek and James Eiseltd.

The livestock team placed 27 out of 54 teams. Team members were Jamie Odom, Donny White, and Mike Patzke.

The range and pastures, poultry and land teams will participate in the State judging contest on April 28 at Texas A&M.

Individual placings were: On the poultry team Jimmy Vaculin placed second, Gary Fuchs placed 7th and Bill Vogelsang was 9th.

On the range and pasture team Duane Tomek was first high and Larry Jistel was third high. Richard Dodd placed first in the land contest and David Tucker placed 10th in the soils contest.

COUNTY AGENT'S NOTES

Freeze Damage Was Variable

By Bill McCutchen

The amount of damage attributable to the frost last week was quite variable even in the same communities. Tender unprotected garden plants were probably hardest hit.

Grain sorghum was bit in many areas of the county but to the best of my knowledge none was killed. Some cotton was up and was burned also but did not seem to be killed.

Pecan trees, Johnson-grass, and even some clover was frost bitten. As a whole though the damage was not severe.

CORN LEAF APHIDS

H. M. Yager for farms in the Maysfield community reported corn leaf aphids in his young grain sorghum.

Heavy populations of corn leaf aphids sometimes cause damage to seedling grain sorghum or corn plants. Larger sorghum or corn can tolerate large numbers of aphids without significant damage. Research has shown that yield losses have occurred only where corn leaf aphids caused stand loss on seedling plants.

No greenbugs have been observed to date. Greenbugs should be controlled on small grain sorghum as soon as populations are noted and there is visual damage.

The greenbug is light green in color with a dark green stripe down the back while the corn leaf aphid is greenish or greenish blue with black or dark legs.

Be sure you know which insect you are dealing with and determine the infestation before you spend time and money on control measures.

COYOTES

With the survey of livestock losses to predator animals still incomplete it is quite evident that Milam County farmers and ranchers are receiving quite a loss from predators.

Ninety-three survey sheets had been returned as of April 13. Sixty-seven of these had sustained no losses due to predator animals, primarily coyotes, while 26 or over one-fourth of those answering had light to heavy losses. These producers have lost 123 head of sheep and goats to coyotes, 56 head of calves to coyotes and 70 sheep, goats, pigs or calves to other predators. The survey period was from Mar. 1, 1972 - February 28, 1973.

Coyotes and other predators have made sheep, goats, and farm poultry virtually non-existent in Milam County. Those still in existence are kept close to the house inside good high fences or buildings.

Environmentalists tell us that a coyote won't kill a baby calf, but you can't make the ranchers that have lost calves to them believe this.

The other tale is that these are coyotes and not wolves. I have spent a good many years in West Texas and these animals don't look like coyotes to me. They are much bigger. Maybe they have crossed with dogs or wolves, and don't know they aren't supposed to kill calves.

I have not seen a calf attacked by these coyotes myself but I have seen calves with missing tails and chewed up hindquarters from attacks. These ranchers tell me they are losing calves and I know they are.

I have received an increasingly larger number of complaints of losses since the ban on the use of chemicals to control coyotes and other predators.

Environmentalists applied enough pressure that these control measures were lifted. This would have been fine if they would have secured an agreement from the coyotes not to kill domestic livestock.

I wonder if the ones screaming for preservation of the coyote are also some of the ones screaming over the price of meat that the coyote is helping to keep off the market.

The Milam County survey when complete will become part of a state-wide survey. If the problem is equally acute in other areas perhaps something can be done about it.

TO RANCH OR NOT?

Land values continue to increase and ranch land is no exception. But often net income from ranching is limited, as a study of a ranching operation in the Edwards Plateau indicates. An economist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service found the ranch is reaping a mere 1.5 percent return on land, labor and management.

Sustained yield in forestry means replanting with young trees after an area is harvested, to insure continued forest growth.

TP&L Agri-Business Consultants will go anywhere to lend a helping hand.

Farmers and ranchers around here know these men as pros who're always willing to help them find new ways to improve their agri-business, their lifestyle and their community.

To do this, agri-businessmen, TP&L and colleges and universities participate in a number of special programs. Scheduled for 1973 are soil fertility demonstrations for blackland row crops and new pasture grasses, further sunflower experiments, Red River Valley vegetable crop improvements, winter pasture and grass-fat cattle demonstrations—plus self-improvement programs for rural development.

TP&L and its professional consultants always welcome the opportunity to help improve the agri-business in its service area.

Black Panthers Skip Algeria

By John Rogers

ALGIERS — The Black Panthers have apparently ceased all activity as one of the "liberation movements" in Algeria.

The organization moved out of its official headquarters in a villa on the outskirts of the capital a month ago, and has not since returned to public view.

Some observers believe the Panthers have left Algeria to seek another refuge abroad.

But Algerians in a position to know say some are still here and have moved to another address - which remains secret.

But whether they're here or not, things have not been the same for the "international section of the Black Panther party" since last summer's hijacking of two United States airliners to Algeria.

Never more than a dozen strong, the Algerians group was recognized as a liberation movement by the Algerian authorities in September, 1970, after black militant author Eldridge Cleaver fled here via Cuba in 1969 to escape a charge of parole violation in the United States.

Although Cleaver resigned leadership of the international section in January, 1972, to assume new duties in the "Afro-American liberation army," his name remained associated with the Panthers.

This week Cleaver left Algeria for France where, on arrival, he asked for political asylum. The case is being considered by French authorities.

After installing themselves here, the Algerians' Panthers worked for two years alongside the dozen or so other liberation movements with offices in the Algerian capital -- mostly African nationalist movements fighting Portuguese rule in their countries, or opposing the Pretoria and Salisbury regimes.

But in August last year, the scene changed.

The Algerian authorities returned to the United States the two planes hijacked across the Atlantic by two groups of black Americans - and also handed back the 1.5 - million dollar ransom the hijackers brought with them.

But the hijackers -- a total of seven people -- were allowed to stay in what diplomats saw as de facto political exile.

Algerian authorities have remained silent about the seven and have never announced the results of inquiries into the hijackings and the revolutionary credentials of the hijackers - whether or not they were political militants or members of the Black Panther party in the U. S.

But later events indicated that while Algeria did not want to return the hijackers to the U. S. to face air piracy charges -- and other criminal charges in two cases -- the government did not wholeheartedly approve.

Now the government is planning to introduce an amendment to the Algerian penal code to ban air piracy, but details have not been announced.

EGGS -- A GOOD BUY

Eggs are a great value any way you figure them, says a poultry marketing specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. At 59 cents a dozen, large eggs cost 39 cents per pound since a dozen large eggs weigh at least 1 1/2 pounds. At this price, a two-egg serving would cost 10 cents -- a mighty inexpensive source of protein.

FISH CUTS

Fish fillets are cut from the fish side, away from the backbone -- steaks are one-inch - thick slices cut across the fish, containing a small portion of backbone.

Slave Day Brings Imagination To The Fore Teachers Elect Officers

Slave Day, a tradition at Yoe High School until recent years, was reinstated Tuesday with both students and faculty caught up in a morning of madness.

It was a field day for amateur costum designers and proved once again that the drone of constant TV his not killed the imaginative powers of high school-of Mike Edmonds and several faculty members drew $40 bids.

And seniors proved willing slaves Tuesday morning as they submitted to a wild assortment of costumes and requests for song and dance renditions in the hallways.

As the morning started each new arrival caused laughter and crowds. Occa-

COACH Ed Cauley's 'Slave Day' shirt dubs him the "Village Drunk" and students added a miniature baseball bat. Also appropriately attired by Slaves Day are Mike Edmonds, Mike Malone, Mrs. Minta Miller, Dennis Hardwick and Debra Mullins.

Teachers Elect Officers

Ed Foster was elected president of the Cameron Classroom Teachers Association at their meeting Monday afternoon.

Also elected to office for 1973-74 are Jeff Webster, vice president; Mary Lee Thweatt, secretary; Nadine Zelisko, reporter; Henrietta Chandler, treasurer and Dorothy Gause, parliamentarian.

The Classroom Teachers May meeting will be a dinner at the Methodist Fellowship Hall on May 15. Tickets are on sale to all teachers, administrators and aids through representatives in their building. The dinner will be the final meeting for Classroom teachers this school year.

Personal Mention

Dr. H. L. Dobbs and his wife of Louisville, Ky., are visiting his mother, Mrs. Sam Dobbs of Yarrellton while he is on leave of absence from his position as president of the board of directors of the Kentucky Baptist Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Fuchs have returned from a meeting of the Poultry Association in New Orleans, La.

Shumate-Fiebig Exchange Vows

The First Baptist Church was the setting for the wedding of Miss Connie Beth Shumate and Danny Wayne Fiebig Saturday at 7 p.m. The Rev. J. E. Lafferty officiated. Mrs. C. W. Bradbury provided nuptial music on the organ, and Mrs. J. E. Lafferty was the vocalist.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Shumate. She is a graduate of C. H. Yoe High School, Temple Junior College, and Southwest Texas State University. She teaches in Rogers. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Fiebig of Holland. He is a graduate of Holland High School and is employed by Arthur Collier Electric of Temple.

The bride chose a white silk organza gown. The empire bodice of Venice lace featured a square neck and Camelot sleeves. The subtle fullness was released at the sides and back forming a graceful dip in the back. The mantilla of silk illusion was trimmed in matching Venice lace. Being slightly raised at the crown, it fell softly down the sides forming a graceful semicircle on the floor. She carried a nosegay of daisies and babies' breath. Her only jewelry was a gold locket, a gift of the groom.

Mrs. J. J. Fenwick of Miami, Florida served her sister as matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. P. D. McCall of Killeen and Mrs. James Thompson, sisters of the bride. They wore blue empire dresses flocked with white flowers. They carried nosegays of spring flowers.

Susan Thompson, niece of the bride, was flower girl. She wore a dress identical to those of the bridesmaids.

The altar of the church was flanked by an arched brass candelabrum and two spiral candelabra. Lighting the candles were Phillip McCall of Killeen, nephew of the bride, and Joe Fiebig, of Holland, brother of the groom. Best man was Ricky Benner of Holland. Grooms-men were Ted Fiebig, brother of the groom, and Ronnie Mucha, both of Holland. Ushers were Billy Rosanky and John Rosanky of Holland, cousins of the groom. Phyllis McCall of Killeen, niece of the bride, and Donna Ashcraft of Rogers registered the guests. The bride's book was marked by a large hurricane lamp and the bride's bouquet.

The bride's table, centered with a white candelabrum with blue lilies of the valley and blue streamers, held the three tiered wedding cake decorated with blue flowers and the silver punch bowl. Serving at the bride's table were Mrs. Loraine Arnold and Mrs. Clifford Angell. The groom's table was Currently being shown in the Gallery of the Alma Thomas Fine Arts Center at Southwestern University is an exhibition of drawings --- cityscapes, architecture, landscape in Spain, France, Italy --- 125 works by globetrotter - artist Richard Coones of Texas and Oklahoma.

Entitled "European Sketchbook No. 3", the exhibit contains a series of drawings typical of the artist's output. As a traveler, Co-

Making the ends of a room meet gracefully and effectively in a corner can be a matter of merely adding comfortable seating combined with shelves and cabinets, creating a bonus of pleasant living space.

One area with strong potential for utilizing idle space is under stairs of either first floor or basement. Shelves and small cabinets with sliding doors recessed into a wood-paneled wall convert wasted space into attractive storage.

A banquette built along both walls of the corner, with brightly cushioned foldup seats to allow more storage within, can turn the corner into a relaxing reading nook or conversation area.

Frame in Stairway

If the stairway is open, framing it in with 2x4-inch pine or fir, covered with western cedar board paneling, will allow spacious built-in storage. If stairs already are enclosed, shelves and cabinets can be added.

Another charming and useful corner conversion is possible in family or dining room, adding low cabinets on converging walls, with shelves of western pine boards above. Part of one wall can have slanted racks, instead of shelves, to hold latest magazines.

Build a low table into the corner to house record changer and tape equipment, or for games and hobby supplies. A hanging lamp and couch complete the corner's furnishings.

Corners also improve use of floor space in bedrooms or guest rooms. Placing beds at a right angle in one corner frees space along another wall for a sewing machine, desk or grouping of chairs and coffee table.

Here again a square table, bought or built to fill the corner space between the beds, makes better use of floor area. Using screw-on wood legs available at building materials dealers, a table can be constructed so that one of the beds fits partly under the table, adding to the open area.

In children's rooms, where shorter closet space is adequate, a wardrobe instead of a table can be built into the corner, again leaving room for one bed to slide into the lower part.

Banquette with cushioned foldup seats transforms idle corner into pleasant leisure area combined with storage. Shelf, small cabinets recessed in wall under stairway hold record changer, entertainment equipment. Banquette is framed of 2x4-inch Douglas fir or pine, faced with western wood board paneling.

FANCY CAST is displayed by "Maggie Mae" the Dachshund shown with her mistress, Mrs. Teresa Hardwick. The 6-month-old dog caught her leg in a fence and broke it, and local vet Dr. Tittsworth devised the special cast for the leg. It doesn't seem to slow down the lively pup.

Weekly Market Report

Fryers will wear attractive price tags soon, if they follow recent reports of adequate supplies, Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt said this week.

The consumer marketing specialist, Texas Agriculture Extension Service, Texas A&M University, added that whole fryers make a better buy than parts.

"Frozen turkeys are available in most meat departments with some markets featuring parts at prices consumers can't afford to ignore.

"There are fewer specials on beef and pork, but they are worth considering," the specialist remarked.

"Best pork values at this time generally include shoulder roasts and steaks, and cut loin roasts and pork end cutloins roasts and pork chops, hams, picnic and pork liver.

"Beef chuck cuts, ground beef, round steaks and beef liver make generally more economical choices in that department."

Turning to fruit and vegetable counters, Mrs. Clyatt mentioned strawberries as one of the more expensive "first of the season" items, adding that prices will drop as supply increases. Pineapple -- at its peak this month -- will follow the same pattern price-wise.

"Melons -- mostly cantaloupe -- and avocados are available. Citrus crops have been excellent, but there will be fewer grapefruit on the market this month. Their quality is good, and there are still plenty for consumers.

"Fresh vegetables finding their place on produce counters include mustard, collards, spinach, turnips and greens. Very economical choices are carrots and cabbage.

"Asparagus, eggplant, broccoli, corn and green beans offer menu variety at varying price levels."

Schools Receive Chicken For Lunch

By the end of the school year, Texas will have received more than 5.8 million pounds of chicken for schools in the National School Lunch Program.

This is Texas' share of frozen cut-up chicken bought by the U.S. Department of Agriculture to help schools meet protein requirements of lunches served under the program. This amounts to around 9.9 average servings for each Texas child who eats lunch at a participating school. Deliveries of the chicken began on September 1 of last year and will continue through May.

The National School Lunch Program is administered in Texas by the Texas Education Agency in cooperation with USDA's Food and Nutrition Service. Chicken and other foods donated by the federal government are distributed to schools through the State Department of Public Welfare.

TEXAS A&M UNIVERSITY is awarded $6,950 by the Alcoa Foundation for engineering scholarships and fellowships and support of the Summer Institute for Science Teachers and the Junior Engineering Technical Society, Duncan McGregor, Mechanical engineering manager at Alcoa, formally presented the funds to Gen. A. R. Lueddecke, TAMU executive vice president.

Motorists Stop For Buses

AUSTIN A reminder on the State law about motorists stopping for school buses was issued today by Colonel Wilson E. Speir, director of the Texas Department of Public Safety.

Speir said the law, which applies on city streets as well as rural highways requires motorists moving in either direction on the same roadway or street with a school bus to stop and remain stopped as long as the flashing top red lights on the bus are in operation.

He said the problem is becoming more serious in cities due to increased use of school buses in urban school districts.

There are only two exceptions to the law on stopping for loading or unloading a school bus: Those vehicles on another roadway of a divided highway (divided by median or physical barrier) are not required to stop, and stops are not required if the bus has stopped in a loading zone of a controlled access highway where pedestrians are not permitted to cross.

Speir said the problem of school bus accidents is of concern to law enforcement officials and educators throughout Texas. Only a few weeks ago, the Travis County Grand Jury urged the news media to publicize the law about stopping and not passing a school bus which is loading or unloading children.

The grand jury noted that serious criminal charges might result if a motorist disregards this law.

Cut Costs In Home Building

Building their own home is a dream many people have, and there are several ways to cut construction and utility costs.

With bathrooms, install all the fixtures along one wall for the most compact, efficient and economical fixture and plumbing arrangement, suggests W. S. Allen, agricultural engineer for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University.

For the most economical two-bathroom arrangement in a one-story house, install the bathrooms back to back. Or consider a well-planned compartmented bathroom which will cost less and take up less space than two separate bathrooms. With the tub and toilet in one section and one or two washbowls in the other, two or three persons can use the bathroom at the same time.

The kitchen and laundry center should be located near the bathroom to shorten cold and hot water lines, Allen adds. Also, the hot water tank should be near the automatic washer, and the clothes dryer should be on an outside wall to make venting easier.

Operating costs can also be cut by choosing materials carefully. Light-colored roofing materials absorb much less of the sun's heat than darker materials. This will help keep the house cooler in the summer. Black

Dr. Baker To Lead First Baptist Revival Services

The First Baptist Church in Cameron will be engaged in revival services April 23 through 29. Leading the revival services will be Dr. R. B. Baker, pastor of the Memorial Baptist Church in Temple.

Conducting the music for the services will be Philip L. McKown, music director of First Baptist Church in Cameron.

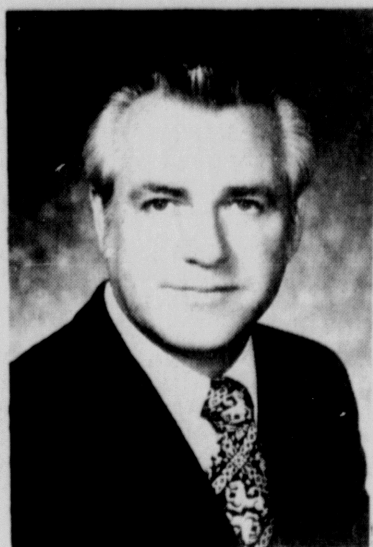

The pastor invites the public to attend each of the services during revival. Services will be held each morning, Monday through Friday at 7 o'clock. The services will begin at 7 and be finished by 7:30. There will be coffee, milk and doughnuts served in the Fellowship Hall for those who would like to remain for that time of fellowship.

The evening services will begin each evening, Monday through Saturday at 7:30 p.m. Sunday services will be at eleven in the morning and 6 p.m. that evening.

The public is invited to attend those services and worship with the congregation in the First Baptist Church.

The pastor stated that the nursery would be available for all evening services and Sunday services.

DR. R. B. BAKER

Rev. Shook Evangelist For Methodist Revival

The First United Methodist Church will begin revival services Sunday night and continuing through Thursday of this coming week.

Speaker for the revival will be Rev. Wallace Shook, noted evangelist and superintendent of the Houston South District of the church.

Rev. Alvis Coleman, pastor, will lead singing and Mrs. Hilliard Thomas will be at the organ. Special music will be directed by Mrs. Maurina Corley and Mrs. Sue Chubb.

Services will be held at 7 a.m. and at 7 p.m. through Thursday.

Before becoming superintendent Rev. Shook served the conference as secretary of evangelism, missions and Christian social concerns.

He has served pastorates in Houston, Tyler and Texarkana.

Sunday will feature both the adult choir under Mrs. Corley and the MYF choir under Mrs. Chubb. Monday the kindergarten class will sing as will Mrs. Corley. Tuesday will feature the MYF choir and Wednesday will have the elementary choir and Jack Terhune. Thursday closes with a quartet from the MYF.

Morning worshippers will enjoy coffee and doughnuts served by the church ladies under the leadership of Gene Blake, chairman of local church activities. Visitation during the preparation time has been directed by John Henderson Jr., chairman of evangelism and Albert McCullin, Jr., chairman of the administrative board.

A nursery will be provided for all evening services

A bird carols its heart out. Pale pink blossoms proclaim the newness of life returning to dormant branches. Spring sunshine gleams on the white pillars of the church. Everywhere is joy and gladness as earth prepares to celebrate the Easter season.

Yet somewhere hearts are heavy. Pain blots out springtime ecstasies. Bird songs torment minds grayed with grief. What message can the Holy Day bring them?

In the darkest hour of the first Good Friday, Jesus, deserted by His followers, rejected by those He came to save, tortured and suffering, said, "Father, into Thy hands I commend my spirit."

Follow His example this Eastertide. Whatever the situation, however bleak the outlook—commend your spirit, your very self to God. Your load will be lightened, your being restored.

Your church is an open door which calls you to the joyous realization of God's love as an unassailable source of strength in your life.

COUNTY NEWS

Caffey Named Chairman Of Tejas Scout Program

Professional football star Lee Roy Caffey, co-owner of a Rockdale car dealership, has been named chairman of the local Tejas Scout District's 1973 Sustaining Membership Enrollment (SME).

"Sustaining Membership Enrollment is a program designed to enlist the support of people who have a special interest in the Scouting movement," Carter said. "It provides a major portion of the total annual operation fund for the Heart O' Texas Council -- about 32 per cent to be exact."

"United Funds throughout the district and council remain the real lifeblood of the Scouting movement, but they simply don't raise enough to support the program (Scouting) in every community."

Carter said the Heart O' Texas Council embraces 12 counties and that over 10,000 youngsters are enrolled in 409 Scouting units. However, that is only 28.5 per cent of the youth population in the council area.

"It's a very similar story here in the Tejas District where upwards of 600 youngsters are participating in about 35 units," he pointed out. "That sounds good but it's only scratching the surface when it comes to communities with no Scouting program or insufficient units to handle the available boys. Hopefully, with the additional support from SME we'll provide units, professional organizational assistance and everything else necessary to help Scouting grow in our three-county Tejas District."

Buckholts

By Mrs. Edwin Gandy

We were sorry to hear about the death of Mrs. Walter Rachul who passed away Sunday morning in a Rosebud hospital and was buried Monday afternoon at Buckholts.

Glad to report that Mr. Murry McCummen is improving. He is supposed to come home this week. He has been a patient in the Veterans' Hospital in Temple for some time.

The Hal Senkel family of Austin visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Senkel during the weekend.

Junior Historians Attend State Meet

Twelve members of Chapter 103 Junior Historians attended the state meeting in Fort Worth on Friday and Saturday.

On Friday night they were guests of Dr. A. M. Pate, Jr. at the Pate Ranch and Museum. Members viewed the many vehicles of transportation in Texas, both past and present.

Entertainment was by the Hardin - Simmons Cowboy Band. Guests were treated to an old fashioned barbecue supper.

On Saturday members attended the morning session which was highlighted by an interesting story of Padre Island underwater archeological research given by Steve Rogers, archeologist for the State Historical Survey Committee.

At noon members attended the awards luncheon which was presided over by Alva Ray Mullinax. Alva Ray was a most entertaining M.C. to the delight of over 500 Junior Historians and members of the Texas State Historical Association.

Gwen Ivey received an honorable mention prize for her paper "Water Systems in Milam County." Chapter 103 received an honorable mention award for activities and research.

Gwyn Chance represented the Chapter at the student breakfast. John Chubb and Miss Ada Margaret Smith attended the sponsors breakfast.

Student, Teacher To Attend Symposium

A C.H. Yoe High School honor student and a teacher have been selected to attend a nuclear science symposium at the University of Texas at Austin June 4-7. District Manager Henry M. Siebman of Texas Power & Light Company announced. The student selected is Paul Dean Vaculin and the teacher chosen is Robert Nance. The symposium will be sponsored by the University of Texas and the Texas Atomic Energy Research Foundation. Student and teacher are being sponsored by Texas Power & Light Company.

D. R. Dodson, superintendent of schools, announced the names of the two attendees. They will join more than 550 other honor students and teachers from over the State of Texas.

Ten investor-owned electric companies in Texas, including Texas Power & Light Company, are members of the Texas Atomic Energy Research Foundation. The organization is supporting research at the University, seeking a future source of energy through control of nuclear fusion reactions.

Dr. Baker To Lead First Baptist Revival Services

The First Baptist Church in Cameron will be engaged in revival services April 23 through 29. Leading the revival services will be Dr. R. B. Baker, pastor of the Memorial Baptist Church in Temple.

Conducting the music for the services will be Philip L. McKown, music director of First Baptist Church in Cameron.

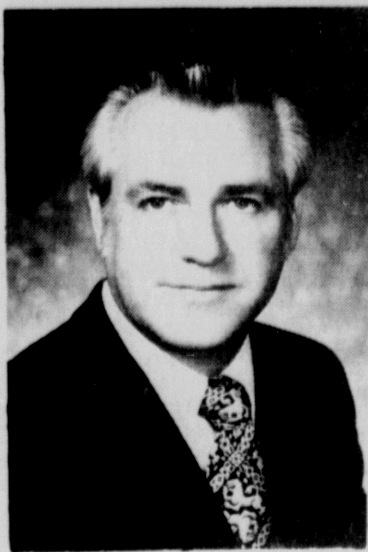

The pastor invites the public to attend each of the services during revival. Services will be held each morning, Monday through Friday at 7 o'clock. The services will begin at 7 and be finished by 7:30. There will be coffee, milk and doughnuts served in the Fellowship Hall for those who would like to remain for that time of fellowship.

The evening services will begin each evening, Monday through Saturday at 7:30 p.m. Sunday services will be at eleven in the morning and 6 p.m. that evening.

The public is invited to attend those services and worship with the congregation in the First Baptist Church.

The pastor stated that the nursery would be available for all evening services and Sunday services.

DR. R. B. BAKER

Rev. Shook Evangelist For Methodist Revival

The First United Methodist Church will begin revival services Sunday night and continuing through Thursday of this coming week.

Speaker for the revival will be Rev. Wallace Shook, noted evangelist and superintendent of the Houston South District of the church.

Rev. Alvis Coleman, pastor, will lead singing and Mrs. Hilliard Thomas will be at the organ. Special music will be directed by Mrs. Maurina Corley and Mrs. Sue Chubb.

Services will be held at 7 a.m. and at 7 p.m. through Thursday.

Before becoming superintendent Rev. Shook served the conference as secretary of evangelism, missions and Christian social concerns. He has served pastorates in Houston, Tyler and Texarkana.

Sunday will feature both the adult choir under Mrs. Corley and the MYF choir under Mrs. Chubb. Monday the kindergarten class will sing as will Mrs. Corley. Tuesday will feature the MYF choir and Wednesday will have the elementary choir and Jack Terhune. Thursday closes with a quartet from the MYF.

Morning worshippers will enjoy coffee and doughnuts served by the church ladies under the leadership of Gene Blake, chairman of local church activities. Visitation during the preparation time has been directed by John Henderson Jr., chairman of evangelism and Albert McCullin, Jr., chairman of the administrative board.

A nursery will be provided for all evening services

A bird carols its heart out. Pale pink blossoms proclaim the newness of life returning to dormant branches. Spring sunshine gleams on the white pillars of the church. Everywhere is joy and gladness as earth prepares to celebrate the Easter season.

Yet somewhere hearts are heavy. Pain blots out springtime ecstasies. Bird songs torment minds grayed with grief. What message can the Holy Day bring them?

In the darkest hour of the first Good Friday, Jesus, deserted by His followers, rejected by those He came to save, tortured and suffering, said, "Father, into Thy hands I commend my spirit."

Follow His example this Eastertime. Whatever the situation, however bleak the outlook—commend your spirit, your very self to God. Your load will be lightened, your being restored.

Your church is an open door which calls you to the joyous realization of God's love as an unassailable source of strength in your life.

COUNTY NEWS

Caffey Named Chairman Of Tejas Scout Program

Professional football star Lee Roy Caffey, co-owner of a Rockdale car dealership, has been named chairman of the local Tejas Scout District's 1973 Sustaining Membership Enrollment (SME).

"Sustaining Membership Enrollment is a program designed to enlist the support of people who have a special interest in the Scouting movement," Carter said. "It provides a major portion of the total annual operation fund for the Heart O' Texas Council -- about 32 per cent to be exact."

"United Funds throughout the district and council remain the real lifeblood of the Scouting movement, but they simply don't raise enough to support the program (Scouting) in every community."

Carter said the Heart O' Texas Council embraces 12 counties and that over 10,000 youngsters are enrolled in 409 Scouting units. However, that is only 28.5 per cent of the youth population in the council area.

"It's a very similar story here in the Tejas District where upwards of 600 youngsters are participating in about 35 units," he pointed out. "That sounds good but it's only scratching the surface when it comes to communities with no Scouting program or insufficient units to handle the available boys. Hopefully, with the additional support from SME we'll provide units, professional organizational assistance and everything else necessary to help Scouting grow in our three-county Tejas District."

Buckholts

By Mrs. Edwin Gandy

We were sorry to hear about the death of Mrs. Walter Rachul who passed away Sunday morning in a Rosebud hospital and was buried Monday afternoon at Buckholts.

Glad to report that Mr. Murry McCummen is improving. He is supposed to come home this week. He has been a patient in the Veteran's Hospital in Temple for some time.

The Hal Senkel family of Austin visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Senkel during the weekend.

Mrs. Estelle Horstmann and her daughter Mrs. Martha Busby of San Antonio was here for the week.

Visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Criswell this week was Mrs. Audrey Garee.

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Morgan and children of Cameron spent Sunday in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ladis Marek.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Garey went to Brownwood over the weekend to visit their parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Garey of Brownwood and Mrs. Claude Hodges of Santa Anna.

Miss Dottie Abel is now employed at J. C. Penney in Cameron.

Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Lehmann attended his brother's funeral in Houston last week.

Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Jones and family of Houston visited his mother, Mrs. Murca and other relatives over the weekend.

Mrs. Evelyn Loftin visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. W. Gandy Sr. of Temple this week.

LEFTOVERS

Whatever the Easter dinner feature, its left-overs can become steaming soups or sandwiches. Add a fruit or vegetable salad for a nutritious snack, suggests Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt, consumer marketing specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A & M University.

BELLARD

Now comes Emory Bellard, those genius cells flashing like your average IBM Monster, installing a new football offense at Ag-gieland. Bellard deserting the Wishbone? Yep, it's true. Now all he needs is Mickey Herskowitz to give his new alignment a colorful name.

It was The Mick, you may recall, who named Darrell Royal's Wishbone, hottest college football deployment since the Split-T.

What does Emory's new

Aggie stitching resemble? Lou Maysel, the Austin Author, claims it is a cross between the Straight and Split-T, with a Triple Option. Sort of an "Ag-gre-gate?"

UCLA's Pepper Rodgers, after a year's experience: "I think the Wishbone is the most exciting offense in college football." . . . But, then Bellard, Billy Tohill at TCU and Arkansas' Frank Broyles are breaking away from the Wishbone. However, there's Dave Smith installing the Pulley Bone at SMU. Who said all college grid coaches are Kopykats?

Frank Howard sez his old Alabama Coach Wallace Wade was so mean, he would give his captain 10 laps if he lost the pre-game coin toss. . . Old Rice Owls may cringe when Al Conover's Blue trots out to line up against Texas at Austin this fall. UT's Potential All-American Center Bill Wyman (6-2, 235) and Starting Offensive Tackle Bob Tresch (6-4, 244) are sons of former All-SWC Rice Performers Billy Wyman and Bob Tresch. Young Wyman Prep-ped at Spring Branch and Tresch at Houston Lee.

BUTCH FOLLOWS

Brothers don't necessarily follow each other in choosing football playing patches, either. And, just as the Aggies thought they had succeeded in separating the Silsbee McGallion's, Bill Yeoman talked All-District Quarterback Butch Mc into joining Big Brother Deryl at UH. Deryl McGallion is one of those All-America-Type linebackers. . . Notre Dame's Ara Parseghian, he of the giant gall, says he will always take the 260-pounder over the 200-pounder, because "You can't win with the 200-pounder." Ho, Ho, Ho! Maybe YOU can't win with the 200-pounders, Ara Baby. But Bob Devaney sure took you apart with 179-pound Johnny Rodgers in that Orange Bowl Irish Wake.

Striped Bass Hatched In Texas

In a significant breakthrough for Texas anglers, Parks and Wildlife Department biologists successfully induced hatching of striped bass in Texas waters for the first time April 7.

The striped bass is a marine species which has done well in some inland Texas lakes.

Department biologist Bill Follis of San Angelo found an 11-pound female bass taken by a sport fisherman from nearby Spence Reservoir in March to be capable of spawning.

Normally, the striped bass ascends rivers to spawn and requires some 50 miles of running water to do so. Spence lacks such a lengthy watershed.

Follis gathered two additional female bass and several males from the lake in the latter part of March. The fish were injected with hormones at a temporary hatchery set up at Spence Reservoir.

On April 4, one of the females was stripped of some 350,000 eggs which were then fertilized.

The eggs were incubated at the temporary quarters and 108,000 striped bass fry hatched on April 7.

In the wild, only about one percent of all eggs deposited by the female striped bass survive.

"This is a good hatch," said Follis, "but perhaps a little below average when compared to some states which have been in this business longer than Texas."

Unser Grabs Speedway Win

COLLEGE STATION

Al Unser edged Gary Bet-tenhausen by two-tenths of a second to capture the cham-pionship half of the Texas Twin 200's at Texas World Speedway.

The 35-year-old Unser took over the lead on lap 68 of the 100 lap event. He was booed by many of the 40,900 fans as he drove into victory circle because of his tactics during the last two laps.

Unser, driving his Offy-powered Parnelli, was lead-ing the pack under the yellow flag. When the cars came around on the 97th lap, the flagman signaled that the green would drop on the next circuit. As the field headed down the long back stretch at a reduced speed, Al sud-denly sprinted to a 100-yard lead before taking the green.

Mike Mosley and Gary Bettenhausen, running sec-ond and third at the time, tried desperately to catch Unser but there was too much daylight between them to catch up with only two laps remaining.

Bettenhausen did manage to pass Mosley on the 99th lap and was gaining on Unser as they came down the home-stretch on the final lap. But he fell short of victory by a mere car length.

Questions were raised about the rules and ethics of the situation.

USAC officials said that when a starter signals that the green will come out on the next lap, it is the pre-rogative of the lead driver to set the pace. So Unser did not violate any rule.

The former two-time Indy 500 winner pocketed $15,962 for his win and got an early lead in the 1973 point stand-ings.

The second 200-miler of the doubleheader classic was won by Gordon Johncock driving Hoss Ellington's 1972 Chevrolet Monte Car-lo.

The stock ca. counterpart of the twin-bill event proved to be just as exciting as the championship race with Johncock and A. J. Foyt swapping the lead continu-ously until Foyt blew an engine in his '73 Chevrolet Laguna on lap 84.

While Foyt drove his flame -shooting car into the pit area, Johncock flashed by for an easy victory to col-lect $5,704 and the second USAC stock car win of his career.

Easter Ham with Cherry-Pineapple Glaze

Place a pre-cooked ham, fat side up, on a rack in a shallow pan. Heat in 325 degree oven for 1½-2 hrs. Drain 20 oz. can of pineapple slices, reserving syrup. Combine syrup with ½ cup cherry preserves, ¼ tsp. cinnamon, ¼ tsp. ground cloves. Cook over medium heat until reduced to half. Brush top and sides of ham with glaze. Arrange pineapple slices on top. Spoon on remaining glaze. Heat 30 minutes longer. Parade it out for oohs and aaahs!

THE EGG AND YOU!

What's more fun at Easter time than brightly colored eggs and happy children decorating, hiding and finding them.

How to prepare eggs for decorating: Use hard-cooked, clean eggs that are free from oils or grease. Prepare the dye by dissolving in boiling water until the desired shade is obtained. Add a little vinegar to make the colors more luminous. The amount and depth of color desired will determine how long the egg remains in the dyeing solution—the longer it stays in, the deeper the colors will be. After the eggs are dyed and dried, rub them with a drop of salad oil to add luster and protect the color.

How to decorate: Decorating should be a family affair—allow the children to paint the eggs with water colors, poster paints or felt tip markers. Add glued on faces cut from paper or made from buttons or beads, if desired. Let their imaginations run wild and see what fun the whole family can have. In addition to hiding the eggs, use the "family art work" in a center piece to last the entire holiday season, or as a garnish for the holiday ham.

A valued, popular food, eggs are also an important ingredient in other foods. They are a good, economical source of protein, iron and vitamins. Eggs are graded U.S. AA, A or B, and classified by size—extra large, large, medium, and small—which indicates weight per dozen. There is a 3 ounce weight difference between each class. A price difference of 7-8¢ per dozen is a handy rule of thumb in selecting the best buy. For example, if large eggs are less than 7¢ more than medium eggs, the large ones are the best buy. Take advantage of our low price on eggs and decorate dozens for this Easter.
